Mayor's Message

Youth Week is celebrated in April each year. Councils, youth organisations and schools work with young people to host activities and events in local communities for young people across NSW.

This year's Central Coast Youth Week recognises and celebrates the incredible contributions of our young people and highlights the rich diversity they bring to the region. It's a chance for us to come together and appreciate the unique perspectives and talents of our youth in areas of civic engagement, recreation, arts and sports.

Young people are invited to join the fun! We've put together a program filled with activities and events that are designed to highlight the interests, accomplishments, and diversity of youth on the Central Coast. Whether you're into creative arts, thrilling sports, challenging competitions or want to socialise with friends, there is something for everyone. We've made sure there's a variety of free activities and events to cater to a wide range of interests.

Central Coast Council is committed to encouraging a strong and inclusive community. Our Community Strategic Plan, with its focus on belonging, guides our efforts to create opportunities for connection, creativity and participation. This Youth Week is a perfect example of that commitment, providing pathways to local sporting, community and cultural initiatives. Young people are important, and their contributions need to be recognised and celebrated.
